

CITY AND SUBURBAN

TOWN TOPICS AND CURRENT COMMENT GATHERED YESTERDAY.

Parade of the Fire Department— The Good Templars—Death of a Distinguished Citizen.

THE RED-SHIRTS.

Grand Parade and Inspection.

In accordance with the programme published in yesterday's TIMES, the members and officers of the Department, Apparatus, Council Committee on Fire, and invited guests assembled on Broad street in front of the Council Chamber at 1 o'clock promptly. Some little delay was experienced in getting the line started, but at 2:30 they moved off in the following order:

Detachment of twelve policemen. Voelker's band.

Hacks containing Chief Curtis, of Petersburg, Chief Gallagher, of Manchester, Chairman Kaufman, of the Committee on Fire, and the following members of the same: Messrs. Davis, Murphy, Lange, Crump, Hughes, Molloy, and Kaufelt.

Superintendent of Fire Alarm Telegraph Thompson; Chief Fuqua; Clerk of Department Fisher; First Assistant, Mountcastle; Second Assistant, Sneed; Third Assistant, Puller, all on horseback. Members of the department. Apparatus.

The line of march was down Broad to Nineteenth, down Nineteenth to Main, up Main to Second, down Second to Broad, and back to starting point. At Fifteenth and Main teams were put on to assist in hauling the engines up the hill.

Before the parade began the Department was inspected by the officers, Committee on Fire, and invited guests, and everything was found in first-class condition.

The fire apparatus of the city consists of three trucks, seven reels, and six engines. The display was creditable, and much satisfaction was expressed that Richmond had such a fine department, as regards both apparatus and men. All told there were 134 men in line and the committee has good cause to feel proud of the display of yesterday.

TEST ALARM.

After the dismissal of the parade, the party drove to box 25, Seventh street, between Cary and Canal, where an alarm was turned in by Chief Curtis, of Petersburg. The alarm was responded to by the respective apparatus in the following order and time:

Superintendent of Fire and Police Thompson's wagon, 2 minutes; Tenth-street hose company, 2:40; Third-street hose carriage, 3:30; Third-street engine, 4:40; Broad-street hose carriage, 4:05; Broad-street engine, 4:45; hook-and-ladder truck No. 1, 5:05; Brooke-avenue carriage and engine, 5:45. No record was made of the working time, as the department was much delayed by the train on the R. & A. R. R. The Hayes truck was put in operation, and a stream was thrown from the top of a thirty foot ladder. The new Siamese coupling, by means of which the streams from two engines is combined and thrown through one nozzle, was tried. The result was more than satisfactory, and the amount of water thrown could hardly be realized. An inch and three-quarter nozzle was used, and experts pronounced it capable of extinguishing any fire.

After this, No. 4 engine was put to work with results that, in all probability, cannot be excelled by any in the city, if equalled. The committee then returned to headquarters well pleased with the working of the department.

THE BANQUET.

The banquet took place at Murphy's at 7 o'clock and was attended by the officers of the Fire Department and the Fire Committee, Chief Curtis, B. T. August, and a TIMES representative. It was furnished in Murphy's best style, and left nothing to be wished for.

Every body spoke some well-timed and friendly remarks, and it was a scene of jaw-y. Chief Curtis, of Petersburg, in particular, spoke pleasingly and well, and ended by inviting all present to meet him in his city at some future day not far distant.

The guests departed about 9 o'clock, having first returned thanks to their kind entertainers for their hospitality.

Another Test Alarm.

After the banquet the committee and guests went to Box 32 and turned in a private alarm for Steamer 1, which responded promptly. On their return home the party stopped in Alderman John K. Molloy's, of Jefferson Ward, where they were handsomely entertained.

Steamer Company No. 3 and Hook-and-Ladder Company No. 1 had a supper at Senger Halle about 7 o'clock. Siegel served up the viands in his usual good style, and to judge from the way they disappeared they were evidently enjoyed.

And thus passed a day which was in every sense of the word a gala one in the epoch of the department. Everything worked satisfactorily and successfully, and not one unpleasant incident occurred to mar the pleasure of the whole day.

Supreme Court of Appeals, Yesterday. Brown against the Commonwealth. Argued by W. M. Flanagan, Esq., for plaintiff in error, and Attorney-General for Commonwealth and submitted.

Commonwealth against Jones. Argued by J. R. Meredith, Esq., for Commonwealth.

Mrs. R. E. Walker is at the St. James, after an extended northern sojourn.

A CELEBRATED CASE.

The Commonwealth vs. the Sureties of S. Brown Allen.

The City Circuit Court—Judge Wellford presiding—was engaged yesterday in the consideration of the case of the Commonwealth against the sureties of S. Brown Allen, late Auditor of the State. The suit is to recover money alleged to have been improperly paid out to Treasurer Hamilton, of Augusta county, in connection with the seizure for delinquent taxes of certain property of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company.

The Commonwealth is represented by Mr. Holmes Conrad, of Winchester; Fitzhugh & Carrington, and F. W. Christian. Judge H. W. Sheffey and Colonel Edgar Allen appear for the defendants.

The following is the jury empaneled to try the case: John P. Heath, L. C. Crump, Robert T. Leonard, C. G. Thompson, John Bolling, William A. Roswell, F. J. Reilly, W. R. Riddick, Philip Bear, Thomas Ellett, Lewis Stewart, and John J. Scott, Jr. The last two are colored. Among the witnesses examined for the Commonwealth yesterday morning was General W. C. Wickham.

Hon. John S. Wise is also a witness in the case, as is Auditor Morton Marye.

Mr. S. Brown Allen was in court, but did not look as well as was his wont in the palmy days of Readjustment. He looks thinner and wears his beard shorter.

The case attracted considerable attention, and there were a number of prominent members of the bar present.

THE REAPER DEATH.

Interesting Information in Reference to Our Mortality Statistics.

The whole number of deaths in the city for the week ending November 6th, were 37, exclusive of still-births; still-births, 4. Among the deaths were 1 of cancer, 3 of croup, 3 of consumption, 1 of heart disease, 1 of meningitis, 1 of paralysis, and 2 unknown.

Of the deaths 8 were over fifty years of age, 3 were of sixty to seventy, and 1 from seventy to eighty. Of the whole number 15 might be classed as infants. Of the 37, 17 were males and 20 females. There were of whites 16, and colored 21.

By wards the deaths were as follows: Marshall, 6; Jefferson, 4; Madison, 5; Monroe, 2; Clay, 5, and Jackson Ward leads off with 13, of which only one was white. Of the deceased twenty were natives of Richmond and sixteen of other parts of the United States; one was unknown. No deaths of persons of foreign birth were reported, which is possibly an error. In a city with so many persons of foreign birth it would be wonderful if none died.

THE PACE MEMORIAL.

Dedication of the Park-Place Methodist Church.

The new Park-Place Methodist church will be dedicated to-day. The services will begin at 12 o'clock. The church was built by Mr. James B. Pace as a memorial to his son, Thomas Neal Pace, and his daughter, Mrs. Nannie Pace Donnan. As the edifice was nearing completion the ladies of the congregation, not knowing that it was to be a memorial, collected a fund with which to furnish the church. But Mr. Pace's generous gift includes not only the lot and building, but the organ and all the furniture. So the ladies' fund will be used for some of the benevolent enterprises of Methodism. At the dedication Park-Place church will be turned over to the Virginia Conference, and the status of the donor will be simply that of a member of the congregation. But while this is true, the very fact that it is a memorial church, will make the attendants all the more careful to see that the property is protected from vandalism.

This is one of the most beautiful sacred structures in Virginia, and is a great ornament to Franklin street. The organ is said to be the finest in Richmond. In this city, where Mr. Pace's modest habits are so well appreciated, it is almost needless to say that no more unostentatious gift of the kind was ever made. The dedication services will be conducted by the pastor, Rev. William E. Evans, assisted by Rev. Dr. John E. Edwards and Rev. Dr. John Hannon. Dr. Edwards will preach the sermon.

The Broad-street Burglar.

John Johnson (colored), who was arrested by Officers Walton and Farley while attempting to break into the store of Cohen Brothers Monday night, was before the Police Court yesterday.

The first charge against him was that of entering the store of B. Florsheim on Sunday morning, October 7th, and stealing therefrom certain goods. For this offence he was sent on to the grand jury.

The next charge was that of attempting to break into the store of Cohen Bros., with intent to commit larceny. On this charge he was also sent on to the grand jury.

Johnson was also charged with committing a felonious assault, but the witnesses failing to appear the case was continued until to-day.

The Additions to the Randolph Box Factory.

The complaint against the Randolph Paper-Box Company, who are building a wing to their present factory, was dismissed in the Police Court yesterday morning. The new building is to be of wood, covered with corrugated iron, and the Police Justice decided that the spirit of the law was complied with, and that there was no additional fire risk incurred by any one on account of the erection of the same.

Good for the Randolph Box Company.

No Household ought to be without a bottle of that best of family remedies, Dr. David's Cough Syrup.

Advertise in the DAILY TIMES.

Fair of Little Sisters of the Poor.

The Fair was visited by St. Mary's Social and Beneficent Union, escorted by the Drum Corps commanded by Major Carrington. The corps looked their handsomest and were the attraction of the evening. The gold-headed cane, voting on which will close to-night, is this most exciting. Mr. Fred. Sitterding has 987, and Dr. George Ben Johnston 973 votes. For the punch bowl the Drum Corps stand ahead with 111 votes. The Horse Guard next, with 28 votes. For the gold-headed cane for Congressional candidates, Hon. George D. Wise is ahead with 125 votes. Miss Katie Black is first for gold watch with 201 votes. Fathers Van de Vyver and Slatery are the principal contestants for the vestments—the former having 302 and the latter 276 votes. Father Williams has 295 votes for the gold chalice, and is ahead. Mr. W. D. Marrow, trumpeter, was a handsome basket of fruit and flowers. Many beautiful and valuable articles will be disposed of and raffled for to-night.

Cuvernus's Counsel in the City.

Hon. Henry R. Pollard, of King and Queen, and Hon. A. Browne Evans, of Middlesex, of counsel for Thomas J. Cuvernus, arrived in the city yesterday. They did not come upon any business in relation to the Cuvernus case. Mr. Pollard is here to attend to some legal matters before the Supreme Court, and Mr. Evans is on his way to the Baptist Association, which meets in Staunton.

It is understood that quite a number of signatures have been secured by Mr. W. B. Cuvernus, brother of the condemned man, and that he has also received many letters from persons who express a desire to place some of their photography upon a petition begging for liberty for Cuvernus.

A New and Thriving Order.

Messmer; Sentry, John Feldner; Master Exchequer, Charles K. Gardner; Trustees, A. Simon, John R. Waldman, C. L. Hewitt; Past-Commander, F. E. Tholl.

Good Mechanics in Demand.

A letter from a prominent contractor at Charleston, S. C., says that good mechanics are in demand in that city and can command good wages. First-class bricklayers can get employment at $5 per day, plasterers $4 per day, and carpenters $3 to $3.50 per day, and good board can be had at $5 per week. He states that Charleston is crowded with inferior workmen, but the people are willing to pay good wages to honest and capable workmen.

How is This?

Mr. Bruff, of the Salvation Army, called at the TIMES office yesterday to say that Texas Harry was never connected in any way with the Salvation Army. It so happens that the first time that this writer ever saw or heard Texas Harry he was speaking at one of the Salvation Army meetings. He soon left, and since that time they have each said words anything but complementary of each other. But that is none of the regular business. All he knows is that he heard Texas Harry speak at the Salvation tent several times.

Mr. Bruff stated that Texas Harry had no official connection with the army, but only spoke as any other convert would be allowed to do. And the army is freely given the benefit of the explanation.

The Jug Case Again Continued.

The case of William Jackson (colored), who was arrested a week ago last Saturday on the charge of dealing the jug, was called in the Police Court yesterday morning, and continued until Saturday next.

Dismissed.

George A. Booker was before the Police Justice yesterday morning charged with selling liquor to minors. The case was dismissed, as it was proven by the defense that the father of the boy who bought the whiskey had told the bar-keeper to let his boy have whiskey whenever he sent him after it.

A Just Tribute to an Active Democrat.

The following is a well-merited tribute to one of the most faithful workers the Democratic party had in Richmond in the late election. He was not only active in Clay Ward, but the influence of his work extended all over the city.

At the last meeting of the Clay Ward Active, after the transaction of much routine business, the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the thanks of this club are due Mr. G. Waddy Wilde, superintendent of the ward, for his efficient and untiring efforts in behalf of the Democracy in the late canvass.

Could Not Convict.

In the Hustings Court yesterday the jury in the case of Mr. Louis Euker, charged with selling liquor to minors, were unable to agree. The court in this case instructed the jury that in order to convict the accused they must be satisfied that he or his agent knew that the person who bought the liquor was under age.

It Is a Fact.

That Dr. David's Cough Syrup is perfectly harmless and the most effective cure for Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Croup, etc., known. Don't take any of the "just-as-good" (so-called) cough cures offered you because they cost the seller less, but insist upon having Dr. David's Cough Syrup.

The Grand Lodge of Good Templars of this State will convene in nineteenth annual session in this city Tuesday night, November 23d, and continue in session during the week.

The present executive officer is Captain W. C. Dutton, of Portsmouth, who has held the position for two consecutive terms. George W. Hawhurst, of this city, is the efficient and courteous secretary, was elected at the Staunton session in 1872, and has held the office constantly since that date.

Death of Mr. Andrew Johnston.

Mr. Andrew Johnston, the well-known lawyer, died yesterday at his residence, No. 311 East Grace street.

Mr. Johnston was born in this city in 1811, and was not only the oldest native citizen at the bar, but was probably the oldest member of the Richmond legal fraternity. As the senior member of the firm of Johnston, Williams & Boulware, he was well known all over the State, and in many other sections of the Union.

In addition to having a mind nobly stored with legal lore he was a man of fine attainments. Mr. Johnston was devoted to his profession and to his family. He never sought political preferment. He was a man of unswerving integrity, a good citizen, an honor to an honorable profession, and a useful and lovable man in all of life's relations. The city of his birth will mourn him and can proudly point to him as a model for her rising generation.

James M. Hardie—"A Brave Woman."

Mr. James M. Hardie, supported by Miss Sara Von Leer made his appearance in Murdock's melo drama, "A Brave Woman," which is one of the best plays that has been produced at the Academy this season. Some of the scenes are a little tedious, but, taken as it is, it is a very acceptable melo drama.

Mr. Hardie is not only a good actor but a fine singer. His rendition of the popular song "White Wings" was enthusiastically encored. Miss Von Leer made a very efficient Lillian Bell. Mr. Beverly as Sandy Oram, and Baby Pollock as Little Artie, were excellent. The other characters were sustained by Messrs. Medinger, Edwards, Collins and Vaughan, and Misses Latham, and Pollock and Mrs. Mesinger. All were very acceptable, and the performance gave great satisfaction.

A "Brave Woman" will be repeated to-night, and all who are fond of the emotional style of acting should see it. The scenic effects in the fourth act were very fine. The play is well placed on the stage and the music of the orchestra was charming.

A "Brave Woman" will be repeated at each performance to-day and to-morrow.

The Presbyterian Synod.

Clifton to deliver the oration on the occasion of the celebration of the one hundredth anniversary of the organization of Manchester Lodge, No. 14, A. F. and A. M., which takes place on the 20th of this month.

A great many partridges have been killed in Chesterfield during the past ten days. The farmers would rather see the crows annihilated.

There was one scene not on the bills in the exhibition of the International Circus in Manchester. That was, that High Constable Lithgow acted as door-keeper and gathered in the dimes. The reason of this was that George Mountcastle had obtained a judgment against the show for money due. Enough was obtained to liquidate the indebtedness and the financial infelicities of the show were released. They show again to-night.

A Baltimore Lawyer Come to Grief.

BALTIMORE, Md., November 9.—At a meeting of the Supreme Bar to-day the case of Ex-Postmaster J. Parker Veasey to show cause why he should not be disbarred for professional misconduct, was assigned for trial on Monday next, and the clerk to the bench, Wingfield McClintock, ordered to notify him, and that his case would either be heard in person or by counsel. McClintock served for Mr. Veasey in vain to-day to serve the order. He learned from Veasey's landlord that he had vacated his office, sent his furniture to auction-rooms, sold it off, and paid his rent. Mr. Veasey told his landlord that he would go West; that he had to do it at once, as his remaining in Baltimore meant starvation for his family. Much sympathy is expressed in legal circles for Mr. Veasey, and the most prominent lawyers regret the distressing position in which so promising a young man had placed himself.

Railroad Accident.

Gordon Inaugurated.

ATLANTA, GA., November 9.—General Gordon was to-day inaugurated Governor of Georgia with great pomp and display of military. The crowd present was larger than on any similar occasion. Among those present was Ex-President Hayes, who was given the post of honor in the procession, following immediately after the Governor's carriage; Chief-Justice Jackson administered the oath of office, Governor Gordon then delivered his inaugural address, which was confined principally to State affairs.

The Vote Fell Off.

COLUMBUS, O., November 9.—Prohibitionists throughout the State have been claiming that they polled 35,000 votes at the last election, but the returns do not bear out the claim. Abstracts of votes from forty counties have been received at the Secretary of State's office, which show a Prohibition vote of 21,066, or an average of 301 votes to a county. If eighteen counties hold out in the same proportion, the Prohibition vote, in Ohio, will be 26,500. A falling off, from last year, of 2,000 votes.

No American Cattle.

OTTAWA, November 9.—In consequence of the alarming spread of pleuro-pneumonia in the United States, the Dominion authorities are taking steps to establish a quarantine against American cattle extending from ocean to ocean. The present quarantine at Emerson, N. W. T. will be extended from forty to sixty days.

The Machinists Convention.

CINCINNATI, OHIO, November 9.—The National Convention of Knights of Labor Machinists were in secret session again at Herbernia Hall to-day. Mr. J. E. Hall, of New York, the well-known organizer, was very active in making matters smooth for a permanent organization. Bernard Hooker, of this city, is strongly mentioned for President. It is proposed to establish a national organ, to be called the "National United Machinist." This afternoon, upon invitation, the convention was visited and addressed by several of the most prominent members of the Knights of Labor.

The Irish Question.

LONDON, November 9.—The Marquis of Salisbury in his speech at the Lord Mayor's banquet in the Guild Hall this evening said the Conservative party occupied a position in Irish affairs which it was impossible to misinterpret. Their business was to accomplish legislation favorable to the integrity of the Empire and to enforce laws which had long been neglected and trodden under foot.

Arrested on Suspicion.
